👥 Research Experience

Improving Data Ingestion Performance in Apache AsterixDB   July. 2019 – Sep. 2019
Summer Intern   Prof. Michael J. Carey   UC Irvine ICS

Data is parsed using a singe node since data intaking module and data parsing module are coupled together in AsterixDB currently, which does not utilize the advantage of distributed architecture of AsterixDB. I worked to tackle this limitation.

- Decoupled the data intaking and data parsing in the data feed
- Made the data parsing parallel and optimize the efficiency of data ingestion
- Designed comprehensive experiment settings to evaluate the improvement

Discovering Top-k Newsworthy Facts from Multidimensional Dataset   Nov. 2018 – Jun. 2019
Research Assistant   Supervisor: Prof. Bo Tang   SUSTech CSE

The program serves to find intriguing facts through an efficient algorithm framework and an insightful measurement.

- Implemented skyline, prominent streak and other operators
- Proposed a score function and non-trivial pruning techniques

Improving Maximum Inner Product Search by GPU   Nov. 2019 – Present
Research Assistant   Supervisor: Prof. Bo Tang & Xiao Yan   SUSTech CSE

State-of-the-art of MIPS (maximum inner product search) is calculated by CPU based on graph index. We are trying to develop a GPU-based algorithm to solve MIPS.
